Saturday, September 22, 2018

9:00 - 11:00 AM St. David's Episcopal Church, Wayne (venue pending!)

Rebecca Groom te Velde will lead a presentation on the "Oxford Hymn Settings for Organists" series of which she is one of the two major editors and also a contributing composer. Members are invited to perform pieces; we'll focus on the "Autumn Festivals," "Advent and Christmas," and "Epiphany" volumes.

Purchase the scores now (see page 5) so you can learn selections this summer and participate in the event in September.

CRESCENDO, the official bulletin of the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, is published monthly, September through June. All material for publication must reach the Editor by the 1st day of the month preceding the date of issue, eg. November 1 for the December issue.

This must be type written and e-mailed (text supplied in an attachment). Crescendo reserves the right to make editorial changes and to shorten articles to fit space limitations. Articles in Crescendo reflect the views of the writers and not necessarily those of the Guild. All advertising must be arranged through the Advertising Manager. Crescendo season and professional card advertising automatically renew for each successive volume, unless we receive notification of cancellation of the advertising.

Advertising Rates

Camera-ready:	One-Time	Season

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Summer is a wonderful time to enjoy warmer weather, get outdoors more, enjoy family and friends, and hopefully get in a trip or two for music-making and vacation. As our Chapter approaches June and the end of another program year, I am looking forward to spending the 16th with you, enjoying wonderful music at Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, and an extended time of wonderful fellowship at Stoneleigh. More on that below.

In the meantime, I want to thank the members of our Executive Committee for their work over the last year, bringing you wonderful programs while thoughtfully considering the Chapter's policies and procedures. It seems there is always more to do, but I believe our committees have been insightful, and a great group of supportive colleagues. If you have served on an additional committee like Program, Communication, Education, Finance, Endowment, Nominating, or have worked to prepare our POE this July, thank you! I am looking forward to joining efforts with our new-elected officers coming onto Executive Committee – these will be announced at our Annual Meeting on June 16. Thanks are extended, too, to all of those who prepare Crescendo every month. We have one of the outstanding Chapter newsletters in the nation.

Please be reminded that both Wanamaker Organ Day and Kimmel Center Organ Day are coming up in June – I hope to see you at those very special events. Have you signed up to help with the Pipe Organ Encounter in July? It's not too late – Kathleen Scheide is heading up this extraordinary effort to bring the love of the organ to young people right here in Philadelphia. Come be a part.

Have you signed up to go to the AGO National Convention in Kansas City this July? Perhaps you are going to the OHS Convention in Rochester, NY, at the end of July. Wherever your summer takes you, I hope you'll be able to share the joy of music-making at one of these, or travel to hear the organ in Ocean Grove or Atlantic City. Next summer the AGO Regional Convention will be in southern New Jersey – right in our back yards! Look for more information regarding that convention very soon.

In the meantime, sign up TODAY to attend the Chapter's annual closing event. This year on Saturday, June 16, beginning at 2:00 PM at Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, we will hear some great playing by Chapter members. Following that, we will travel about 5 minutes west on Montgomery Avenue to Stoneleigh – the new home of the Organ Historical Society, where we will hold our annual meeting, enjoy a demonstration of the newly-installed Aeolian-Skinner organ (op. 878) by Chris Kehoe, see a bit of the Library and Archives of OHS, and enjoy the grounds with beverages and food. Invite a friend to join you – any funds collected above our expenses will go to support this July's Pipe Organ Encounter at Girard College.

Thanks, friends. Summer is coming! See you very soon -

*Marcia Sommers, Dean
Philadelphia Chapter AGO*

ORGAN HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Bynum Petty, archivist@organhistoricalsociety.org

Archer Gibson was the quintessential residence organist. He was the first organist to make more than a million dollars practicing his art, and he recorded more played organ rolls than anyone else.

Born in Baltimore on December 5, 1875, he played in churches before he was ten. He attended the City College and Peabody Conservatory and was later on the Peabody faculty. He passed the first Fellowship examination given by the American Guild of Organists in 1902 at the age of 27.

Gibson began his duties at the Brick Church (NYC) on May 1, 1901. A few days before Easter 1909, Gibson resigned and, after burning every piece of music he had added to the Brick Church library, walked out. He was succeeded by a Presbyterian minister's son from Indiana about whom Gibson quipped: "Clarence Dickinson is a virtuous organist; I am an organ virtuoso!"

For the rest of his life, Archer Gibson devoted himself to what he called "housework," playing Aeolian organs in the homes of the wealthy. Among his first patrons were Henry Clay Frick, Charles M. Schwab, and William D. Sloane. By 1918, Gibson commanded extraordinary fees for playing in private homes.

Archer Gibson: "The Millionaire's Maestro"*

He received $15,000 to play twice a day, seven days a week at Henry Clay Frick's summer residence, $10,000 a season for playing at Charles Schwab's on Sunday afternoons, and a like sum from John D. Rockefeller.

Archer Gibson was a likable, friendly, courtly gentleman who knew how to treat his patrons: he always sent them flowers at Christmas—even when he was in the hospital. He referred to his bills for playing as "souvenirs" and would always enclose a note, such as, "the usual souvenir of pleasant hours passed with good friends."

The Philadelphia AGO Archive has a home ... ... and what a home it is!

Providence has shined on the Philadelphia AGO's efforts to establish a Chapter Archive. Thanks to the generosity of the Haas family, the Organ Historical Society finally has a home at Stoneleigh, and if that weren't enough, the chapter is delighted to find the OHS more than happy to provide our archive a home and welcome us as colleagues to their enterprise. How perfect is that?

Now that our chapter's archive has a place to be, a home in OHS, its continued existence is more assured, able to weather the ebbs and flows of interest in the project and more likely to survive the fortunes of future generations. We are honored by the Organ Historical Society's willingness to establish this relationship with the chapter and its archive.

The Archives Committee is currently comprised of six long time chapter members: Rae Ann Anderson, Dennis Elwell, Jeff Fowler, Ethel Geist, John Van Sant, and Karen Whitney. Karen brings years of library experience and expertise from her work at the Philadelphia Free Library. All of us bring a passion for the preservation of Philadelphia's particular part of our profession's history.

The committee has been working off and on for two years with Bynum Petty, Archivist for OHS. Now that OHS has moved into Stoneleigh, we've started to meet monthly. On some occasions we literally work for OHS at Bynum's direction. Their collection is extraordinary and the work is interesting. At other times we are instructed in the tedious process of creating and cataloging an archive. It is slow and time consuming and will go on pretty much, forever. Ultimately, the Philadelphia AGO Archive will be a branch of the OHS Archive, and searchable online.

While our holdings to date have been haphazardly catalogued into a database, we are at the seminal point of establishing the scope and design of the archive after which each artifact will be properly catalogued into its permanent place in our collection.

We have decided on some parameters. The collection will not be limited to the chapter in particular. It will, however, be limited to the geography traditionally covered by the Philadelphia Chapter. It will not be restricted in time and remain open ended to the future and thus never complete. Other defining parameters limit the collection to the organ and its professions and practitioners, organists and their many organizations, composers and their music, organ builders and their organs.

The Chapter Archive will not duplicate the holdings of OHS and will not actively pursue archives already held by area libraries. (There may be some exceptions, especially regarding attempts to complete a series, such as Crescendo.)

The search for artifacts not currently in our collection is one of the more interesting tasks of the committee. You probably have some! For instance, do you have published organ music by Philadelphia composers such as Ralph Kinder, H Alexander Matthews, Rollo Maitland, David D Wood, Russel King Miller, Vincent Persichetti and others? (Note that Robert Elmore is not on this list. His music and papers were officially archived at the University of Pennsylvania in 1993.) You can help us by donating any such music. Also welcome are old Crescendos, programs, brochures, flyers, and photos: anything within the parameters mentioned above.

The Philadelphia AGO Archive is now a secure and safe place for your treasures equal to any library. Gifts of artifacts of significance accepted into the archive will be acknowledged by a "Deed of Gift."

It's the real deal!

St. Peter's is a vibrant and joyful community of faith that appreciates the role of music as a way of connecting us deeply to God and to one another in worship. We are seeking an organist and choir director who will bring their skills, energy, and spirituality to our community and who will work collaboratively with the clergy, choir members and other lay leaders to create meaningful music and liturgy. The position is 20 hours including a weekly rehearsal and a Sunday morning service at 10 a.m. as well as special services (Holy Week, Christmas, etc.). We are blessed to have wonderful instruments: a 4-manual Aeolian-Skinner organ and a Steinway grand piano. To learn more about our music ministry, visit www.stpetersglenside.org/music-ministries. Candidates are asked to send a letter of interest and resume to The Rev. Emily Richards, stpeter654@gmail.com. Anticipated start date: Late summer.

Our parish of 2,100 families located one hour by car outside of Philadelphia is seeking an accomplished organist and piano player to serve as Director of Liturgy and Music. Some of the responsibilities include playing for most weekend and holy day liturgies, recruiting and prepping cantors, scheduling music ministers, developing adult and youth choirs, serving as coordinator of the Liturgy Committee and training lectors and extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion. The right candidate must be an accomplished musician, conversant with the major liturgical documents of the Church, experienced in leading congregational worship, and have the interpersonal skills necessary for recruiting and training volunteers. A Bachelor or Master of Arts degree in Church or Sacred Music is required.

This is a full time position for a practicing Catholic with a strong interest in liturgical worship as well as musical performance. Our congregation appreciates both traditional and contemporary styles of music. The organ is an early 2000 Allen Renaissance model and the piano is an upright Yamaha.

Generous benefits and a salary commensurate with experience and education will be offered. For a more complete job description please see our website. If interested please forward your resume to the above email address and copy PadreScott96@aol.com.

We are happy to advertise positions available for churches in the Greater Philadelphia Area as a free service. We need to request that all ads stay within a 250 word limit – applicants should be directed to the church for further information. We would also be very grateful if churches encourage their organists to join our chapter – and many include dues payment as a contract perk!

The Bryn Mawr Renaissance Choir is an a cappella ensemble of 20 to 30 voices who perform repertoire from 1300-1650, including both sacred and secular works, in a wide variety of languages (Latin, English, Italian, French, Spanish, and German, and occasionally in other European languages). The group, based at Bryn Mawr College, was founded over 50 years ago by a core of Bryn Mawr graduate students, and over the years it has grown to include undergraduates, faculty, staff, and alumni from the Tri-College area, as well as members from the surrounding community. Membership is now open to any singer with some experience of reading music and singing – and a love of Renaissance music! Rehearsals are Sunday evenings from 7 pm to 9:30 in the Music Room in Goodhart Hall at Bryn Mawr College during term time. The group usually performs once each semester in the Great Hall at Bryn Mawr College, with an additional short performance at the college's May Day celebration.

The Bryn Mawr Renaissance Choir is supported by Bryn Mawr College and by the Ted Handy Fund for the Support of Renaissance Music administered by the college. The group's director receives Research Associate status at Bryn Mawr and a small stipend from the Fund. The college further provides regular rehearsal space and use of the Great Hall for performances. In keeping with the college's educational mission, the Renaissance

IN PARADISUM

John Andrew Bailey

John Andrew Bailey, AAGO, musician and musicologist, died after a two and a half year struggle with glioblastoma, a form of brain cancer, on March 26, 2018, in Philadelphia. He was born in McCullough, Pennsylvania in 1970, but made Philadelphia his home after 1993.

John showed an early aptitude for music and studied with Harry Franklin on the piano as well as studying organ with Edgar Highberger in his teens. He completed his B. Mus. in Organ at Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester in 1992, and continued there to earn the degree of M. Mus. in the performance and literature of the harpsichord in 1993. His primary teachers at Eastman were David Craighead, organ, and Arthur Haas, harpsichord. "What an adventurous spirit!" Arthur describes John, characterizing him as "... an extremely talented musician" who was also "willing to try anything ... no matter how daring or outlandish, as long as it made musical sense to him."

After Eastman, John received a Benjamin Franklin Fellowship in musicology at the University of Pennsylvania where he completed coursework toward a doctorate in the music of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, particularly the poetry and music of Guillaume de Machaut. He presented his research at international conferences and notably was invited to give papers at All Souls College, Oxford, and Princeton. An essay he co-authored on the performance practice of fifteenth-century chansons appears in Binchois Studies from Oxford University Press.

Over the next twenty years, John performed in the Philadelphia area as an organist, harpsichordist, pianist, and choir director. He was organist and assistant choir director at the Philadelphia Episcopal Cathedral beginning in 2011. In 2013, he was selected as the director of the Bryn Mawr Renaissance choir. He performed regularly as an accompanist and continuo player in the Philadelphia area, including many appearances with soprano Julianne Baird. He also appeared as a concerto soloist with baroque orchestra Tempesta di Mare and on the Philadelphia Bach Festival series.

In the summers, John was a beloved member of the community of the Amherst Early Music Festival, where he not only performed and taught but also administered the logistics of keyboard instruments for the entire event. His humorous speech to the students about the "care and feeding of harpsichords" was an anticipated bright spot every year.

Along with performing, John was a gifted teacher in a variety of subjects. He taught music, humanities, and writing at Bryn Mawr College, Montclair State University, Temple University, Swarthmore College, and the University of Pennsylvania. One student, Anne Hunter, remembers him as "the kind of coach who, in the middle of explaining some deep aspect of historical performance practice, stops, looks at his students and says with concern, '...and never forget to count.' Whenever I don't forget to count, I think of John." Another student, Richard Pace, describes John's "encyclopedic understanding of music, combined with his sensitivity to performance and his patient but uncompromising style of teaching."

His friend and fellow musician Peter Sykes encapsulates the way John's friends and family feel about him: "His love of the arcane and absurd, and his absolute delight when he found them intertwined, always brought joy and often illumination – his observations never failed to strike a chord. Always charitable, always good hearted, and always gently subversive, his spirit is one that I am grateful to have known, and will now always cherish." His wife Kristina Baumli survives him, as do his beloved cairn terriers, Okie and Tiggy.

A memorial service including many musical contributions from his friends took place at Bryn Mawr College on April 22. Donations in John's name may be made to Penn Hospice at Rittenhouse, 1800 Lombard Street, Philadelphia, PA 19146.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE

Sándor Kádár, FAGO, Chair 609-540-6548

Our annual celebration and meeting will be held on June 16, 2018. As part of the event, Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church will be hosting an organ recital. AGO Next Scholarship recipients and improvisation students of Jeffrey Brillhart will perform on the magnificent Rieger organ. All are welcome, and your attendance would be greatly appreciated. Young organists would feel their efforts are valued by more experienced organists. I believe that teenagers who are discerning their futures and deciding if organ and music will be a part of them really need the support of their older colleagues.

I would like to share some of the feedback of those who have been participating in the improvisation sessions since September. Keep in mind that walk-ins are always welcome. If you have always wanted to learn more in the field of improvisation don't hesitate to "crash" one of our next sessions!

"This is forcing me to be creative; all I've ever done is read and interpret others' writing. I'm enjoying pushing myself and improving in my service playing."

"Our teacher encourages me to practice improvisation simply through doing it. A lot of times it doesn't come out the way I intended... Sometimes it's actually much better than I had expected."

"As an uneducated organist I have needed instruction for a very long time. In the past playing the notes as written was most of what I did--- now some improvisation makes pieces much more full and rewarding."

"I have felt the need for a skilled improvisation teacher for years. Jeffrey Brillhart is an awesome educator and his sessions have an incredibly friendly atmosphere."

We would like our substitute lists to be a valuable, reliable and up to date resource for the community and for our members. We want to include everyone who wishes to be listed and to do so as accurately as possible. Please take a moment to let us know if you wish to be listed and are not, if your information has changed, or if you no longer wish to be listed. We will be trying to ensure that only current chapter members are listed, and as such will be removing names of non-renewed members. If your name has been removed in error, or if you need corrections, please contact Fran Treisbach as indicated above.

WHERE AM I?

Our puzzle for May was the Heefner Memorial Organ at Ursinus College.

Where might this instrument be?

Silly musings for a frightening time of year...

More folks plan to go down the aisle,
I promise to try hard to smile,
Though an aunt to the groom
With her voice clears a room,
I'll suggest we rehearse for a while.

The season of weddings, upon us,
Young brides want events loud and pompous,
Processing to trumpet tunes,
Hope sermon's over soon,
So they can at reception be raucous.

Grandma looking askance at maids' cleavage,
And worries for ring bearer leakage,
Sitting down with a 'Humph!'
Looks around in triumph,
Thinking everyone looks a bit peevish.

Micromanaging planner still fusses,
As bride fiddles with all her trusses,
And now old Uncle Fred
Plays his tuba, instead
Which is sadly not one of his plusses.

The couple look radiant through the service,
Even though they're both horribly nervous,
They both beam, triumphant,
Recessing to Trumpet,
Groomsmen notice a flask that's suspicious.

Obstreperous toddlers, now penitent,
Demonic in frills, melt down imminent,
Organ music is swelling,
While troubles they're yelling
While hovering moms try to circumvent ...

May your weddings go smoothly as possible,
May you ALL overcome any obstacle,
With beautiful music,
Even win over skeptics
And may it all sound quite phenomenal!!
